a punk rock musical with music by Green Day lyrics by Billie Joe Armstrong script by Billie Joe Armstrong and Michael Mayer

Following the events surrounding 9/11, a group of young Americans are looking for the meaning of life. In their search for answers, they go their separate ways: Johnny escapes his parents' influence to enjoy the freedom of New York. One of his friends stays at home to work out his relationship with his pregnant girlfriend, while another ends up being posted to Iraq...

The punk rock musical, American Idiot, is based on the hit album of the same name by Green Day, which has been one of the most successful albums worldwide since its release in 2004. Both the album and the musical were written by Green Day's lead singer & songwriter, Billie Joe Armstrong. In addition to adapting the hits from the album, Armstrong produced additional songs especially for the musical. Naturally, the album's catchiest songs like Wake Me Up When September Ends and Boulevard of Broken Dreams are all featured in the musical, transforming it into a rock concert with their irresistible musical energy. American Idiot celebrated its premiere in New York in 2010 and has since been performed 422 times on Broadway, picking up two Tony Awards along the way. Now, this theatrical extravaganza is finally here at the tfn!
